

Terry emerges from behind the bonnet of Gemma Harvey's car with a grimace. He shakes his head.

This is... Our Street

Episode 2 - Word On The Street - Terry Ramsden

1

"It doesn't look good."
"Great. That's all I need," replies Gemma.

2

"Sorry," says Terry, "I'll bring it back to the garage for a proper look, but don't get your hopes up."

He reaches up to close the bonnet but a pain shoots through his stomach. He holds his belly and groans.

3

"Blimey, are you alright?"

Terry composes himself.

"Aye, I'm fine. Just a bit of... I'm fine."

Later, back at home, Terry gets the pain again. He leans against the kitchen wall. His wife Susan gives him a funny look and continues with her phone conversation.

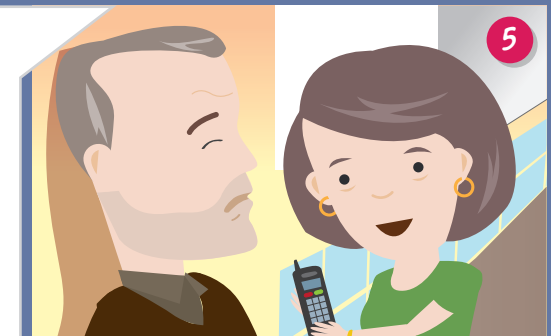

4

"Never. Oh, bless him. What a hero."

Susan cups her hand over the phone.

"Have you heard this, love? Samira's husband from up the street-"

5

6

Terry isn't listening. The pain is getting worse.

"Susan..."

"Susan."

7

But Susan isn't listening either. She's chatting away on the phone.

8

Terry takes a deep breath.

"Kids. Come and set the table. Your tea's nearly ready..."
